

Oh, the weather outside is frightful

SHANNEYGANOCK won two awards at this year's MIANLs (including the prestigious Entertainer of the year award) for their album, Set You Free, but only Chris Andrews made it back to St. John's for the awards ceremony. It seems the others were snowbound in Nova Scotia as a fierce winter storm that dumped over 30 cm of snow stranded the rest of the group. Andrews caught a plane in Moncton to make it back for the awards show. Fans of the band can also check out a new Christmas CD from them this holiday season. There are also plans in 2005 for a second solo CD from the band's accordion player Mark Hiscock, a follow up to the hugely successful The Music Takes Me Back.
